Familiarising the audience with feminist theory, the speaker through her lecture spoke on a feminist analysis of Emily Bronte's Wuthering Heights. Through her discussions on Catherine, she brought in references to Sandra M. Gilbert and Susan Gubar, The Madwoman in the Attic: The Woman Writer and the Nineteenth-Century Literary Imagination (1979). The lecture explored feminist poems by Emily Bronte, women's desire, agony and loneliness. The lecture concluded with a comparative study of Jane of Jane Eyre and Catherine of Wuthering Heights.

Name of the students: 3rd Semester students

Short Report: Dr. Md. Masihur rahaman, Assistant Professor, Dept. of English arranged an extension Lecture for the 3rd Semester students. The event took place at virtual platform as teaching learning was going on virtual platform owing to Pandemic. The guiding principle behind this extension lecture was: a) Students were introduced to Resource Person from outside Sukanta Mahavidyalaya b) The presentation and discussion would give a scope for widening the knowledge and understanding on a given topic.

A topic from American Literature, already taught by the Departmental teacher was selected for this extension lecture and it was informed the target students much before. Dr Mosarraf Hossain, Assistant Professor of English, Kabi Nazrul College, Murarai, Birbhum was requested to deliver the lecture on the topic entitled "Black Lives Matter: A Study of William Faulkner's Dry September".

The online lecture/ event was inaugurated by Nilangshu Sekhar Das, Principal, Sukanta Mahavidyalaya, who delivered an inaugural speech and inspired the audiences with his words of wisdom. A short Bio-Note of the Resource Person was read out by Pawan Toppo, Assistant Professor of Sukanta Mahavidyalaya. The Resource Person was requested to deliver his speech before the students who were around 70 in number. Using PPT Dr Hussain presented his topic and answered the questions that followed the lecture. Dr Hossain impressed the audience with his erudite and scholarly presentation.

The whole event was conducted by Dr. Md. Masihur Rahman, assistant professor, Sukanta Mahavidyalaya.

Extension lecture organised by the Department of English during 2021 – 2022.

Topic: Post 1947 - Postcolonial Theory and Texts.

Speaker: Professor Sanjukta Dasgupta, University of Calcutta.

Date: 30 November 2021

<https://drive.google.com/file/d/1VczC21YVrOAZsLM-OJhEfRCUSKOE7Lw/view>

The speaker addressed our students explaining the socio-cultural and political dynamics of postcolonialism in theory and texts. Through a detailed discussion from Toru Dutt and Henry Louis Vivian Derozio to Salman Rushdie and Amitav Ghosh, this lecture fares ahead towards Bhabha perceiving postcolonialism as a “cross-cultural initiation” (Bhabha 9), which can be considered as the “transformation in the cultural certainties of the homogeneous, autochthonous nation” heralding the advent of hybrid forms of culture – cultural translation (Kalra 1). Professor Dasgupta emphasised that the true and perfect relationship in life and society is based on love which facilitates “freedom through cultivating a mutual sympathy” as the principle “to solve the problem of mutual relationship” and “liberate ourselves from the fetters of self and from all those passions that tend to be exclusive” (Tagore, “Freedom” 628).

Extension lecture organised by the Department of English during 2021 – 2022.

Topic: Scottish Modernism as Renaissance

Speaker: Dr Scott Lyall, Edinburgh Napier University

Date: 27 January 2022

<https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Q9fCXxmu7LzmNv1-HSRlwejqC7QW9ogM?usp=sharing>

The speaker discussed modernism through the Scottish Renaissance which originated in the Celtic Twilight guided by Patrick Geddes, the author of the article “The Scots Renaissance” published in Evergreen in 1895. Nevertheless, the inter-war movement is to be distinguished from the Celtic Twilight and the search for a golden age. Whereas both movements searched for the roots of the national spirit, the Renaissance found in cultural precedents a new way to engage Scottish society with its present and its future. The lecture explored through several texts the spirit of renaissance ushered through Scottish Modernism.
